The climatic change has become a global concern over the last few decades. Besides, these climatic changes affect life on the earth in various ways. These climatic changes are having various impacts on the ecosystem and ecology. Due to these changes, a number of species of plants and animals have gone extinct.

Climate change is the long term increase in the earth's average surface temperature and the large scale changes in global, regional, and local weather patterns that result from that increase, caused by a significant increase in the levels of greenhouse gases that are produced by the use of fossil fuels. A warming atmosphere affects more than just air temperatures, while heat waves and droughts are becoming more common and intense.

Public administration provides the organization of joint activities of people and manages these activities through the relevant bodies of the state apparatus and civil servants who perform certain functions. Among the functional responsibilities I can highlight planning, scientific forecasting, formation of government bodies and organization of their activities, gathering and processing information, monitoring and accounting. I believe that the most important feature of public administration is the practical organization of the functions of the state.

Each person sees public administration in a different way, but all of us wish to live in a state where his opinion is taken into account. I agree with experts who believe that public administration takes place where people work together collaboratively. It provides awareness and focus of this activity. Management achieves its goal through the harmonization and co-ordination of human actions. Therefore, I am sure that it is desirable that each of us takes into account not only personal initiative, but also consider the opinion of other people. In my opinion, it would be right. Performing coordination function, management ensures consistency between the individual actions.

In order to understand how possible it is for the system of public administration to be at the same time effective, efficient, and accountable, I offer to consider what principles the governance is based upon. There are three approaches, which are formulated according to these basic principles. They are legal, political and management. Core values of public administration under legal approach are the values of the rule of law and the protection of citizens' rights. In this case, public servants are subordinated not so much to their superior, but to the requirements of law. According to political approach, the main task of government is to maximize the embodiment of the will of people. Civil servants at the same time must be politically accountable and susceptible to the current interests of the citizens.

As it is known the core values of public administration under management approach should be effectiveness, efficiency and results. In my opinion, it is important to get maximum results with acceptable cost. It is impossible to speak separately about effectiveness, efficiency, and accountability, as they are complementary concepts.
